#TARN-ET-GARONNE

inattendu

Welcome in Tarn-et-Garonne!

The Tarn-et-Garonne was born on November 21st, 1808, with territories taken from neighboring departments by the emperor Napoleon 1st, to make Montauban a prefecture, important place of political power.

Crossed by three major rivers, the river Aveyron, the river Tarn and the river Garonne, the area of Tarn-et-Garonne, renowned for its peaceful way of life, offers romantic landscapes: plains and hills scattered with fields and orchards, wild gorges, cliffs, limestone plateaux and vineyards.

In the heart of the South-West, in Occitanie region, Tarn-et-Garonne is the destination for medieval architecture lovers. Lauzerte with its beautiful medieval streets lined with half-timbered houses, the upper castles of Bruniquel overlooking the river Aveyron. A variety of places that promise a real time travel.

Each season is a new experience to live : have a wine tasting in the vineyards in January, go to the truffle market in Caussade in February, see the blossom in March, walk along the Compostella walking path in April, taste the delicious cherry of Moissac in May, swim in the river Aveyron in Laguépie in June, dance in the streets of Lafrançaise during the white night in July, watch a classic movie in Auvillar harbor, under the stars in August, taste a Chasselas grape in September, cycle along the Canal of the Two Seas, under the falling leaves in October, get lost in Saint-Antonin-Noble-Val narrow streets in November and live magical moments in Montauban at Lanternes Festival and see the enchanting Christmas lights in December.

The Tarn-et-Garonne is an all year long trip!

Alcohol abuse is dangerous for your health. Please drink responsibly.

City Trips: Montauban

Welcome in the city of Ingres

Montauban, town of Art and History, nine centuries old, is wearing well. Built of pink brick, it offers treasures such as the 17th century Place Nationale with its splendid arcades and surrounding old streets, its luxury private mansions, the view on the former Bishop's Palace from the Pont-Vieux (old bridge). The town has managed to keep its identity whilst renovating its architectural heritage, witness of a rich and eventful history. Must see: the Church of Saint-Jacques, the Ingres Bourdelle museum, the Notre-Dame cathedral, the sculptures by Antoine Bourdelle scattered around the town.

www.montauban-tourisme.com

Street art adventure

In Montauban, you can admire many works of art and street art in the streets of the town centre. They pay homage to famous children of the city. Artists who have produced some of our country's greatest masterpieces, have influenced future generations and have left their mark on the history of France! Go on a graphic adventure looking for the feminist Olympe de Gouges, Bourdelle and Ingres, the 100 Taur young artist masterpieces...

Ingres Bourdelle museum

In the former archbishop palace dating from the 17th century, the Ingres Bourdelle Museum houses works by two of Montauban's most famous sons, the painter Jean-Auguste-Dominique Ingres and the sculptor Antoine Bourdelle. The museum exhibits an important collection of paintings by Ingres, as well as over 4000 of his drawings, one of the museum's great assets. The Bourdelle collection also includes numerous sculptures by the master, such as the monumental sculpture of Hercules the Archer, a masterpiece by the artist showing Hercules performing one of the twelve labours.

In 2024, the year will start with 2 exhibitions, from January 19th to May 19th:

- In celebration of the 150th anniversary of Impressionism in France, the Ingres Bourdelle Museum will host 2 masterpieces of Gustave Caillebotte: Le Parterre de Marguerites, generously lent by the Giverny museum; and Les Soleils, jardin du Petit-Gennevilliers, from the Musée d'Orsay collection.
- Quoi de neuf les amis? This exhibition will showcase paintings, sculptures, pictures, draws, from the museum collection, and come back on 20 years of collecting masterpieces from Ingres or Bourdelle, bought or donated to the museum.
- The exhibition "Un miroir du Monde" by Anne and Patrick Poirier in the lower room of the museum, the Black Prince Room, is on display until May 2024.

City Trips: Moissac

Stone, water and grape...

This city is indeed the home of the famous AOC Chasselas grape, the first fresh fruit to benefit from AOC, and listed as French Cultural and Immaterial Heritage. Moissac, charming city, is well-known worldwide for its abbey church and its cloister, listed as World Heritage Site by UNESCO. Founded in the seventh century, the abbey of Moissac was for centuries one of the most important in France. It was and still is a major stop on the Compostella walking path. The tympanum of the abbey is also among the masterpieces of Romanesque sculpture. With a pretty marina, Moissac is ideal for people wanted to walk along the Canal of the two seas. Don't miss the impressive Cacor bridge.

Focus: Belleperche's Abbey and Espace Firmin Buisset, two wonders to discover near Moissac

Have a tea in Belleperche

In the Middle Ages, Belleperche Abbey was one of the largest and richest monasteries in the Southwest of France. The unique exhibition "Earth and Tea" at the Museum of Table Art in the Cistercian Abbey of Belleperche is not to be missed. This exhibition displays the "Valfré collection", unique in Europe, it is a real aesthetic and cultural treasure, a collection of old ceramic masterpieces, mainly from China. It is above all 246 stoneware pieces, mainly teapots from the city of Yixing. Yixing is the place where the teapot was invented at the beginning of the 16th century, when tea prepared by infusion finally replaced the decoction (pressing/ mashing) process that had been used for centuries. Yixing teapots, with their many nuances of red, violet, purple, brown, yellow or black, have been appreciated and sought after in China for five centuries. What was once a collector's item and curiosity reserved for princes has once again become a daily object, and rightly so; Yixing stoneware is the perfect material for preparing tea in the best conditions to express the aromas and flavours.

The most beautiful villages of France

Get lost in their medieval streets and fall in love with these 3 jewels of Tarn-et-Garonne

Auville

Overlooking the river Garonne valley from the top of its hill, the village of Auville is classified as one of the "Plus Beaux Villages de France".

The triangular square where you can admire the stunning grain hall gives the village an Italian atmosphere, thanks to the toscan columns of the hall and the charming houses around it.

The tourist office, which is in the former Clarisse convent is a peaceful place where you can have a breathtaking view on the river Garonne.

www.officedetourismedesdeuxrives.fr

Bruniquel

Bruniquel is a medieval enchanting village, surrounded by forest, caves and nature, the beauty of Bruniquel lies in the magnificent facades of its medieval houses. Not one but two castles stand side by side and dominate the river Aveyron. The castles gardens are not to be missed.

If you want to discover the secret of Bruniquel's cave, visit the castles and the room dedicated to this famous scientist discovery.

www.bruniquel.fr

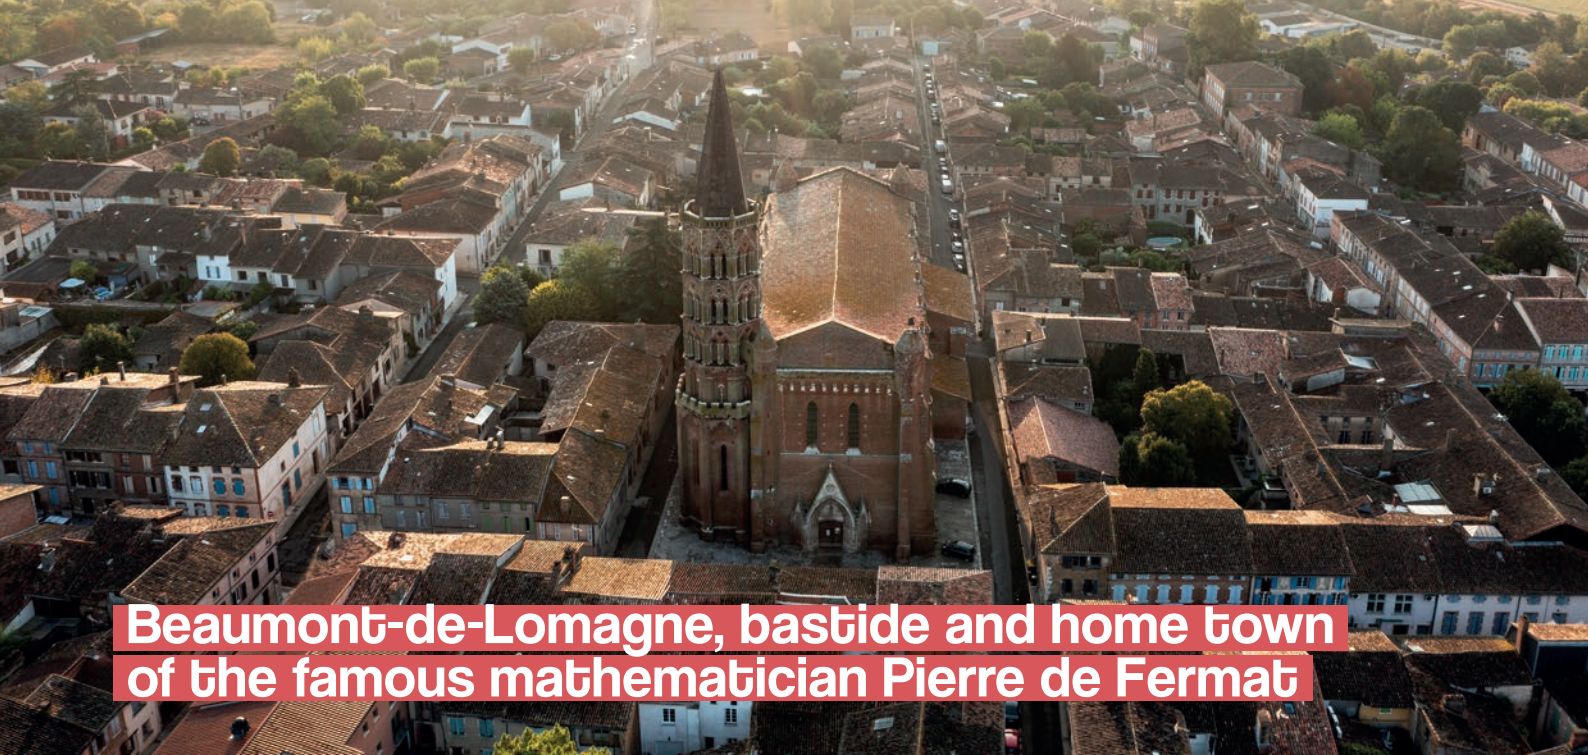

Lauzerte

The village of Lauzerte overlooks the valleys and hills of Quercy Blanc. This medieval "bastide" has an incredible rectangular square surrounded by timber-framed houses, restaurants and you can see in front of the church the surprising turned corner.

A farmers' market is held every Saturday morning all year long, and a "marché gourmand" every Thursdays evening in July and August.

The village is famous for its arts and crafts workshops.

Beaumont-de-Lomagne, bastide and home town of the famous mathematician Pierre de Fermat

NEW

.. Fermat Museum Opening Summer 2024

In July 2024 the new Fermat Museum will be opened in Beaumont-de-Lomagne, one of the most charming city of Tarn-et-Garonne, in the heart of the South-West in Occitanie region. The town, famous for the white garlic, is the home town of the genius Pierre de Fermat. He was one of the most intelligent man of his time. He is best known for his Fermat's principle for light propagation and his Fermat's Last Theorem in number theory, which he described in a note at the margin of a copy of Diophantus' Arithmetica.

This museum will be a major site for scientific tourism, and will be a perfect occasion to visit Beaumont-de-Lomagne.

www.museefermat.com

.. Beaumont-de-Lomagne, the queen of Lomagne

A royal fortified town, Beaumont-de Lomagne was designed by surveyors according to a rigorous grid pattern. Logically, the town's emblem is the 14th century market hall whose oak framework shelters the food stalls. From the timbered houses to the horse riders distance markers, Beaumont's architectural charm is revealed on every corner of its right-angled streets!

The Lomagne countryside is full of surprises, with treasures from Baroque Art, the chapel of Lachapelle, which looks like an Italian opera, and the church of Larrazet, where one will be amazed by its magnificent white "retable", where angels and saints invite you to party.

Modern Art in Tarn-et-Garonne

2 amazing places to discover, to be surprised by artists, from modern times

Beaulieu-en-Rouergue Abbey

Geneviève Bonnefoi and Pierre Brache saved it from ruin in the 1950s. The Cistercian Beaulieu-en-Rouergue Abbey is now run by the Monuments Nationaux and houses the couple's incredible contemporary art collection (1363 pieces, 350 of which are displayed since 2022). It is the second biggest contemporary art collection from the Paris school after the Pompidou's in Paris. Aside from the permanent collection, the major contemporary art Centre in the middle of nowhere will host temporary exhibitions.

From Spring

▣ Lithuanian artist TADAO CERN will be the next featured artist in the Abbey de Beaulieu's chapel.

« Visual perception together with a creative process is very much influenced by the things that have been learned while working as an architect. I was deeply interested in human behavior and habits – I worked around or with them. Now, as for the artist, the field of interest stayed the same – I question what affects our actions in a certain way and can these things be changed ».

Artist's words from www.tadaocern.com

▣ Spring exhibition "Autour de Fred Deux" by the Association Culturelle de l'Abbaye de Beaulieu.

▣ From July 5th to 14th : Festival de l'Abbaye de Beaulieu

The Montech water slope

This tourist site is opened in Montech since 2020. Colorful and unexpected, it is part of a project to upgrade the town's water slope. It showcases a unique heritage focused on river tourism and its industrial treasures along the Canal des Deux Mers. The water slope has been painted with colors that remind the sailing codes, inspired by the Italian art movement, Memphis. The Altaïr barge complete the visitor tour and also hosts exhibitions. The courtyard of the former paper mill accommodates the tourist office of Grand Sud Tarn-et-Garonne. It has been transformed with a landscaped car park and an open-air theatre to provide a dynamic platform for this contemporary and modern space.

The brooms of Grisolles - The hat of Caussade

The brooms of Grisolles

During more than a century, Grisolles was the Europe capital of the broom.

The industry of the nineteenth century enables the fertility of the plains of river Garonne. It's a revolution that transforms a coarse utensil of straw in a tool aesthetic and usual with strong wooden handle, different straw, wire for tie, conical shape flattened, and all keeping by a pretty cord of colour. This is a 100% Occitan's broom. Before the First World War, the canton counts more than 20 workshops and around 400 workers in Grisolles.

Jean Marc Coulom, the last broom maker of Grisolles:

He is the inheritor of a handmade knowledge in danger. Always passionate, Jean Marc insures this old tradition. You need to be patient to make a broom and some raw material of quality: beautiful straw of Sorgho, wooden handle of pin of Landes, reed of Camargue, plasticised hemp yarn and a little bit of red paint on the apple and at the end of the handle: emblem of the workshop. His creation are a mixed of art, old knowledge and usual product.

Calbet Museum

The Calbet museum was created in 1938 by writer and poet Théodore Calbet Occitan, the museum of arts and popular traditions of Grisolles has a set of collections related to different aspects of regional daily life from prehistory to the present. A room is dedicated to the broom production of the city and its story. Since 2002, the museum opened its Calbet spaces to contemporary Art, inviting exhibition and residency, artists revisiting the concepts of heritage, community and territory. An original encounter that makes this museum a place of unusual dialogue between the ancient heritage and artistic creation...

Wear a real "Canotier" in Caussade

Caussade is known worldwide for its hat factories and the truffle market. In the XIX century, Caussade made straw hats for French actors, such as Maurice Chevalier, and rich ladies of Paris. Today, the hat festival in July invites artists and designers of hats from the all world to present their best creations at the art show. Since 2015, Caussade has also its kind of Hat Museum, "L'Épopée chapelière". This original space, dedicated to the hat history of Caussade, allow visitors to discover the creation and history of hat factories in Caussade, wearing a real canotier.

Didier Soligon, artist and Ironworker

In Lauzerte, Didier Soligon and his creations are known to all! A designer who imagines most of his pieces, inspired by people, nature and History.

Didier mainly produces decorative objects and furniture, which are sold in his workshop in Lauzerte. He is keen to highlight old trades, the Quercy region, the wine and the animals. His workshop is close to the Pilgrim Garden of Lauzerte, in the old armoury from Middle-Ages, not a bad place to expose knives and swords!

"When people look at a piece, there should be no questions asked!"

Gastronomy

The Tarn-et-Garonne, with its microclimate and rich soil, produces 80% of the fruit in the Occitanie, 420 000 tons to be exact. It is the vineyard of the Southwest. Chasselas de Moissac AOC, with its light golden fruit, is one of the bestselling grapes. Reine-Claude Label Rouge is a unique variety of plum from the southwest with a firm, juicy, sun-drenched texture. The plum tree is in fact the oldest plant species cultivated for marketing. Tarn-et-Garonne also produces Quercy melons with their exceptional aroma and taste, Moissac cherries, Apples, Lomagne hazelnuts, Laguéprie chestnuts, saffron, white garlic from Lomagne, and duck specialities such as foie gras.

Irresistible Chasselas of Moissac

In 2017, Chasselas of Moissac has been recognized by France to be listed on National Inventory Cultural Heritage.

Twenty producers of the famous table grape Chasselas de Moissac AOC expressed a desire to share their passion. Passionate about their work, they welcome visitors into their farm to discover the fruit growing. Its delicious simplicity, the most daring cooks do wonders ...

Consecrated first "station Uvale" of France in the 1930s, Moissac continues the tradition of wellness treatments. Nowadays, you cannot only enjoy eating grape juices, but you can also relax in spas, steam, and saunas... in this beautiful city.

Quercy Lavender

Formerly, the lavender of Quercy was recognized of specific quality. H el ene Lafon and Xavier Leplaideur continue the culture practice by their grandparents in Touffailles. They cultivate the officinal lavender in organic farming. They distil on site and apply the polyculture farming with their herd of flock of sheep of Lacaune. Come in June or July to see the flowering.

Gin Saint-Amans, a love story between France and Scotland

Anne, Scottish, and Jean-Louis, French, have worked for a long time in spirits in Scotland, before coming back to Jean-Louis 's home land to make their own special gin.

Tarn-et-Garonne is a heaven for winemakers, the climate producing some of the world's finest grapes. It is the love of these grapes that forms the basis for this precious gin. Proudly named after the small hamlet in which they live, this gin is the result of a long-lived dream for Anne and Jean-Louis; to create something sustainable and with purpose. Most of the fruits, flowers and herbs are produced in their garden.

<https://saintamans.com/>

Wines

Possessing 6 appellations the Tarn-et-Garonne produces wines where one can taste the influence and earthiness of the rich soil that nourished the grapes.

PDO Fronton

Cultivated on the terraces of the left bank of the Tarn, these wines are characterised by their main grape variety, the Négrette, which produces reds with scents of black fruits, cassis or blackberries, flowers and spices. The rosés are fruity and soft with good aromatic intensity. To qualify for PDO certification, the blend must contain at least 40% Négrette.

> Wines: red and rosé

www.vins-fronton.com

PDO Saint-Sardos

The history of this wine is linked to the Cistercian Abbey of Grandselve. The production area spans the valleys bordering the left bank of the Garonne and includes about fifty winemakers who are members of the cooperative cellar of Saint-Sardos, alongside an independent winemaker and they cultivate 165 hectares. The main grape variety is Syrah, with spicy notes, combined with Tannat, for its character and fruitiness. Cabernet Franc and Merlot complete this blend.

> Wines: red and rosé

www.saint-sardos.blogspot.fr

PDO Brulhois

Thanks must be given to our English friends who, since the nineteenth century, have recognised the quality of this wine and exported it home. Connoisseurs have known of this rare wine for a long time, but it wasn't until 2011 that the Brulhois Winemakers obtained PDO certification for their production. The "Black Wine" is quintessential of Brulhois. Sommeliers agree that the wine is known for its complexity of aromas, which blend with the spices, jammy black fruits, leather notes and fern.

> Wines: red and rosé

PGI Lavilledieu

The little known vineyard of La Ville-Dieu-du-Temple is located upstream of the confluence of the Tarn and the Garonne, between Montauban and Castelsarrasin. It owes its strong character to a harmonious blend of varieties, which include Négrette, Cabernet Franc, Syrah, Tannat, Gamay and sometimes Fer and Milagranet. The PGI comprises three estates: The Peyrarols Estate in Bressols, the Gazania Estate in Labastide du Temple and the Chais de Massougné Estate in Barry d'Isle made

> Wines: red and rosé

PDO Coteaux du Quercy

The denomination includes 18 towns surrounding Montpezat de Quercy and its collective. The main varieties of the denomination are Cabernet Franc (40% to 60%), Merlot, Auxerrois, Tannat and Gamay. Their character and finesse perfectly complement the local cuisine. The Confrérie (brotherhood) des Vins of Coteaux du Quercy has over 1,000 members and ensures the promotion and protection of its wines.

Château Baudare

When he met Clare, the mother of his four children, David Vigouroux opened his heart and his market... towards England.

The fifth generation of his family at the Château Baudare, David Vigouroux, often elected "Best Winegrower/maker of the Frontonnais", produces a wide range of elegant, honest and delicious wines, with a special mention for his «vieilles vignes»: wine from old vines. Yummy !

The Hills and Terraces of Montauban PGI Comte Tolosan

Thanks to its different soils and exposures, the same denomination surrounding Montauban can produce different wines according to their origin. In addition, winemakers can play with several varieties: Syrah, Cabernet Franc, Tannat, Merlot, Gamay for reds and rosés, and Sauvignon and Chardonnay for whites.

> Wines: red and rosé, white

The Coteaux du Quercy's unmissable festival !

Responsible tourism

The Tarn-et-Garonne, with its waterways, plains, hillsides, forests and orchards, is full of space where nature can express itself freely.

Spring

Spring is all about blossoming orchards. The cherry trees, the plum trees, apple trees colour the plains and hills with white and pink. Poppies cover the roadsides and paths, and strawberries are the queens of desserts and markets.

Summer

The perfect season for canoeing and swimming in the rivers, having dinner outside and long walks before sunset between the sunflowers. Take a nap under a big oak and get yourself an elegant straw hat from Caussade.

Autumn

For sure the most spectacular season in Tarn-et-Garonne. The yellow, red and orange colours are everywhere. Along the canal of the Two Seas, the plane trees make you feel like you walk under a golden world.

Winter

In Tarn-et-Garonne, the winter is quite mild but some mornings are frosty, which offer rare moments such as freeze nature and silver landscapes. You can have magic moments seeing villages such as Lauzerte or Bruniquel, emerging from the winter mist.

The most beautiful Sensitive Natural Areas in Tarn-et-Garonne

The Sensitive Natural Areas are preserved places to discover, where people can admire the beauty of nature and explore Tarn-et-Garonne's most ancient areas, but also need to respect the local fauna and flora. They host specific biodiversity and benefit new access. In order to create a network of SNA, the Departmental Council itself is involved in managing and developing some sites. It provides technical and financial support to local project leaders. Tarn-et-Garonne has also 3 areas classified as Natura 2000: the river Aveyron Gorges, the caves and hillsides of Quercy Gascogne and some of river Garonne banks.

Magical sites are not to be missed, such as the island of Labreille, the island of Beaucaire, Labarthe's lake or Saint-Nicolas-de-la-Grave's ornithological reserve.

<https://ens.tarnetgaronne.fr>

Saint-Nicolas-de-la-Grave

The confluence of Saint-Nicolas-de-la-Grave is a natural and preserved area of 340 hectares, located at the confluence of the Tarn and the Garonne. The union of the famous river Garonne and the tumultuous river Tarn, creates here a place of high environmental interest, where nature is queen.

It is also a bird sanctuary, the largest in the South-West, unique in Europe, recognised for the diversity of the species that frequent it. Situated on the banks of the river Garonne, the ornithological observatory, created and run by the Society of Natural Sciences of Tarn-et-Garonne, is the perfect spot to admire migratory and sedentary birds.

Le Secret: Cosy up in a vaulted cellar

Have a night to remember at Le Secret de Montpezat-de-Quercy B&B in its beautifully-renovated cellar with a medieval vaulted ceiling. Soak up the peace and quiet in the stone house with a private spa. Don't leave before walking in the medieval street of Montpezat-de-Quercy, visit the Collegiale's tapestries. If you are lucky, you will see the Pyrenees mountains from the church garden.

La Maison Arcades

The Maison Arcades is opened since last summer, in the heart of Verdun-sur-Garonne. This bed and breakfast offer an eclectic mix of luxe interiors and traditional design pieces with Spanish atmosphere, in 3 large bedrooms. This former catholic school also hosts a large swimming pool, as well as a nice "table d'hôtes", providing diners with french cuisine focused on sustainability, seasonality and locality. In 2024 the 2 additional suites will open, and a spa.

Escape forest in the Happy Hamlet

In a nutshell: The Happy Hamlet is a unique location in the sunny southwestern French countryside. A special hideaway ideal for various important occasions, private or business. They organise wellbeing retreats (yoga, pilates, cooking, wine, writing, creative...), and receive guests for unforgettable holidays.

Escape Rooms are already an institution, but in the Hamlet there is no "room" – your playground will be the wide forest surrounding the property.
